

ST. LUCIE COUNTY SKYWARN TRAINING

Have you ever wanted to be a severe weather spotter for the National Weather Service? Well here's your chance...

St. Lucie County ARES (Amateur Radio Emergency Service) is pleased to announce that the National Weather Service office in Melbourne, FL will be presenting a Skywarn Basic Training program in St. Lucie County.

The program is free and open to the public. It provides citizens an opportunity to support their community by becoming trained as severe weather spotters. The program also provides an opportunity for current spotters to renew their status for another two years.

When: Wednesday, October 21, 2015

Time: 6:00 PM – 8:00 PM

Where: St. Lucie County Emergency Operations Center

15305 W. Midway Road, Fort Pierce, FL

If you are interested in participating, please RSVP to our training/testing mailbox: classes@pslara.com. Indicate Skywarn in the subject line and include your name and basic contact information (email address and telephone number).

This program is always popular and a large crowd is anticipated, so please enroll early.
